African Temples Of The Anunnaki: The Lost Technologies Of The Gold Mines Of Enki
Archaeological proof of the advanced civilization on the southern tip of Africa that preceded Sumer and Egypt by 200,000 years. Includes more than 250 original full-color photographs of South Africa's circular stone ruins, ancient roads, prehistoric mines, large pyramids, and the first Sphinx. Reveals how these 200,000-year-old sites perfectly match Sumerian descriptions of the gold mining operations of the Anunnaki and the city of Enki. Shows how the extensive stone circle complexes are the remains of Tesla-like technology used to generate energy and carve tunnels straight into the Earth. With more than 250 original full-color photographs, Michael Tellinger documents thousands of circular stone ruins, monoliths, ancient roads, agricultural terraces, and prehistoric mines in South Africa. He reveals how these 200,000-year-old sites perfectly match Sumerian descriptions of Abzu, the land of the First People—including the vast gold-mining operations of the Anunnaki from the 12th planet, Nibiru, and the city of Anunnaki leader Enki. With aerial photographs, Tellinger shows how the extensive stone circle and road complexes are laid out according to the principles of sacred geometry and represent the remains of Tesla-like technology used to generate energy and carve immensely long tunnels straight into the Earth in search of gold—tunnels that still exist and whose origins had been a mystery until now. He reveals, with photographic evidence, that the human civilization spawned by the Anunnaki was the first to create many totems of ancient Egypt, such as the Horus bird, the Sphinx, the Ankh, and large pyramids, as well as construct an accurate stone calendar, at the heart of their civilization, aligned with the Orion constellation. He explores how their petroglyphs, carved into the hardest rock, are nearly identical to the hieroglyphs of Sumerian seals. Mapping thousands of square miles of continuous settlements and three urban centers—each one larger than modern-day Los Angeles—Tellinger provides the physical proof of Zecharia Sitchin's theories on the Anunnaki origins of humanity.

Above image is of a book page which contains a review praising a book titled "African Temples of the Anunnaki: The Lost Technologies of the Gold Mines of Enki" by Michael Tellinger. The reviewer expresses overwhelming enthusiasm about the book, having read all 14 books by Zecharia Sitchin, as well as having him as a presenter at the New Age Center years ago. The reviewer finds this book to be exceedingly important because evidence is finally presented which is hard to argue with. The reviewer lists several important findings from the book, such as the discovery of gold mines in South Africa over 200,000 years old, the lost city of Enki in Great Zimbabwe, over 10.86 million stone circles spread over thousands of hectares, evidence about the importance of gold, and numerous other archaeological findings that challenge traditional historical narratives. The reviewer concludes by expressing their belief that the evidence presented is so overwhelming that it is difficult to argue against. The reviewer encourages others to read the book to understand the implications of these findings.
